HAVE JUST RECEIVED

From LEE'S PATENT and FAMILY MEDICINE Store, New York,

A FRESH SUPPLY,

OF THE FOLLOWING GENUINE

MEDICINES.

A sovereign remedy for Colds, obstinate Coughs, Asthmas, sore throats, and approaching Consumptions, and most disorders of the Breast and Lungs.

The celebrity acquired by this medicine through the U. States, for speedily removing coughs, colds, hoarseness, &c. exceeds all former examples. The following recommendation, selected from a very numerous list, will fully confirm what has been said of its unparallleled excellence.

"To H. LEE.

"Being desirous to make public, for the good of others, the excellent quality of HAMILTON'S ELIXIR, prepared by the late Mr. LEE, I have sent you the following account of the benefit I have received from it, which I hope will induce others to give it a trial. In consequence of a bruise on the breast, received from a fall, my health grew bad, my breath being difficult, and frequently I have had suddenly to rise up in my bed, with all the horrors of immediate suffocation. Add to these, constant pain in my breast, a cough, a great loss of flesh and strength, and you may conceive that my symptoms evidently indicated an approaching consumption. The advice of a most eminent physician was resorted to, and afterwards a second was called in, but without giving me any relief. Another physician who knew me, and the circumstances of my case, advised me to give "Hamilton's Elixir" a trial, saying he had used it in his practice, and always found it to do much good. A bottle was procured, and I found relief before I had taken half of it. I continued to use it, and was soon strong enough to attend to business. On taking cold, some of my former symptoms returned, but are always removed by a dose or two of the Elixir.

"GEORGE BRENER, JR.

"No. 21, Budd street, Philadelphia."

HAMILTON'S ELIXIR,

Will prove a valuable acquisition to public speakers, who may be subject to temporary hoarseness and thickness of speech. In long confirmed Asthmatic complaints where a cure can scarcely be expected, this medicine affords immediate relief, moderating the fits of coughing, and rendering their recurrence less frequent. On children afflicted with the hooping cough, the like beneficial effects may confidently be expected.

HAMILTON'S

WORM LOZENGES.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar title, so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary, a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent, and is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the tenderest infant of a week old, should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels, of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms, and many fatal disorders.

A CERTAIN CURE

FOR THE RHEUMATISM.

POLYANDRIA,

OR,

The Essential OIL of the Cajiput Tree.

A MEDICINE,

UNIVERSALLY esteemed among the East Indians, as a safe and certain cure for the Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago, Epilepsey, &c. restoring vigor after laxations and sprains, giving relief in pains of the head and neck, toothache, &c. and since it has been introduced into England (which is of very late date) has been highly recommended, by some of the most eminent physicians in London, as the best and most effectual remedy for the Gout as well as the Rheumatism, by dissolving the Coagulated Lymph, of which these diseases are formed. In wounded tendons it is of the greatest use by preventing the juice which oozes out of them from fixing. Bruizes and sprains it infallibly cures, for it keeps the extravasated Lymph and blood perfectly dissolved, and prevents their fixing in the interstices of the vessels, till nature either takes them up by the refluent blood, or expels them through the pores of the skin.

Long contracted sprains are removed by it, and it is of the utmost service for the cramp and numbness, stiffness, or weakness of the joints. It is a most efficacious remedy for burns and scalds, extracting the fire very soon, and if used immediately, will entirely prevent them from blistering. It is excellent for a fresh cut. It is of infinite use for the sting of wasps, &c. bite of rattlesnakes, gnats and other venomous animals and other insects.

The above Valuable Medicine, has been but lately introduced into Europe and America in consequence of the Tree from which it is produced, yielding its essential Oil, but in small quantities, and this chiefly monopolized by the government, owing to the great virtue it was found to possess, in the cure of Rheumatisms, &c. the proprietor has divided the original packages, and put it up in smaller bottles made for the purpose, with directions round each bottle, signed in his own hand writing; and in order to demonstrate its vast importance, has tho't proper to submit for public inspection, the following out of the numerous cures, which by this valuable MEDICINE, has been performed since its general use in this country.

Letter from Mr. JAS: WOODMAN, near Norfolk, to Mr. C. MULLIN.

JULY 23, 1813.

DEAR SIR—My son has been more than 8 years afflicted with a Rheumatic Complaint. The excessive pain he constantly endured, reduced him to a mere skeleton; and from extreme weakness occasioned even the joints of his legs to turn out of their sockets. A very eminent physician at Norwich, whom I consulted, informed me nothing could be done for him, and the faculty in general considered him beyond the reach of medicine. He remained in this desperate situation, till the 19th Oct. last, when I was advised to try your "Essential Oil of the Cajiput Tree." Accordingly by persevering in the use of it, his joints are returned to their proper places, and he is now able to walk 10 miles with the greatest ease. Upwards of fifty respectable persons in this town, have been at my house to see my son, all who knew him, thought it impossible he ever could recover.

I am, dear sir,
Your greatly obliged friend,
JAMES WOODMAN.

Broomsgrove, Jan. 4, 1814.

SIR—I have been violently afflicted with a Rheumatic Complaint; even my fingers were so contracted, that I could neither dress nor undress myself, or give the least assistance to my family.

I have only used one bottle of the Essential Oil of the Cajiput Tree, and by it I am perfectly restored.

Yours, &c.

E. HOUGHTON.

December 20, 1813.

SIR—A severe stroke of the palsy, 6 months ago, deprived me of my speech and the use of one side. In this desperate situation, the Oil of Cajiput Tree, was strongly recommended, and I thank GOD, as successfully applied. By persevering in its use a short time, I was completely restored and continue to enjoy the perfect use of my faculties, although near 80 years of age.

Yours, &c.

W. FRANCIS.

No. 14, Arabello Row, Pimlico.

☞ Mr. FRANCIS has held a public situation at the Guildhall of the City of Westminster, many years, and is well known to the generality of the respectable inhabitants.

Witherslatch, near Kental, January 13, 1813.

SIR—I beg leave to inform you I have been several months past afflicted with such violent pains in my hips, thighs and legs, and swelling of my joints, that I could not rest day or night; nothing that was applied gave me any relief, till a neighbor informed me of the Oil of the Cajiput Tree, having performed many surprising cures, sent for a bottle to Mr. Mullin, which gave wonderful relief, and by repeating the same 2 or 3 times, I am perfectly cured, and am as well as ever I was in my life.

This I have publicly given under my hand, for the good of all sufferers in like circumstences.

FOREIGN.

PRIVATE CORRESPONDENCE.

The following letters from France, written by two intelligent gentlemen of this City, who are now there, will be read with no small share of anxiety. Without formally designing to do so, they will serve, perhaps, more satisfactorily to give a correct impression of what is passing on that interesting Theatre, than could have been gathered from a more studied attempt.

Extract of a Letter from an American gentleman at Havre, to his friends in this city, dated March 22.

"The Revolution operated in this country within these last 20 days, without a shot being fired, is certainly the most astonishing as it probably will be the most important recorded in history.

"The intelligence of the arrival of Napoleon at Frejus was followed by such a rapid succession of events, that we have been in a constant state of alarm and amazement, and we have not had time to reflect on the consequences that may result to this country and to Europe. The stupor of amazement that all France has been plunged into is more astonishing than the success of the enterprize that has driven the Bourbons from the Thuilleries.

"From the rapidity of Napoleon's journey from Lyons it appears he neither expected or experienced the least assistance. We learnt only this morning his entrance into the Capital, but we are ignorant of the particulars attending it, as we are indeed of the circumstances of his progressive successes prior thereto. I cannot therefore give you an account of them which besides would be unnecessary, as the papers that will go by this same opportunity will be of later dates. Louis the 18th, with the household troops, retreated from Paris on the night of the 19th inst. it is supposed on the road for Flanders probably to occupy Lillo. Many causes might be assigned for discontent in France to have favored the change that has taken place, but it has been effected too promptly to have depended upon any thing other than the interference and disposition of the army.

"Since the return of the Bourbons to the throne, although uniting with an uncommon share of ability, the most liberal opinions, many acts of government have been impolitic and imprudent. With the exception of himself, the Royal family put themselves at the head of a party which frowned on every one that had taken an active part in the Revolution, that endeavoured first directly by law, afterwards indirectly by exciting the fears of holders of national property to force them to compromises at trifling considerations to restore the confiscated estates to the dispossessed Emigrants. The liberty of the press was under the controul of government; still attacks of the most violent nature were permitted with the appearance of a worse future intention, against many leading characters in France—who tired with Revolutions probably would never have attempted any change, had they felt a security for their property and no fear of being proscribed by the disgrace and insult which was constantly heaped upon them.

"There was besides a hatred founded on contempt for the emigrants and an universal fear of the encroachments of arbitrary power founded on the known sentiments and probable intention of Monsieur and his Sons with regard to the constitution. The spirit of the army independent of their feeling towards Napoleon as their General, was excited almost to mutiny by fear that court influence would deprive their officers of their active service and advancement in favor of the sons of emigrants and favourites. The nation also was under the impression that the incorrigible prejudices and bigotry of the heirs apparent to the throne would induce them at a future period to attempt subjecting it to the antiquated institutions of the "ancient regime" and superstitions of priestcraft. The King alone, in the opinion of every one, was free of the faults and prejudices of his family and their party, but in his desire to establish the grand principle that no throne should be occupied by a sovereign whose authority was not derived from inherent rights, he pushed Murat to extremities, and made a natural coalition between him and those who wished to work troubles in France and Italy. The duke of Orleans who has pretensions to inherit the crown of Naples was intriguing to have the ancient dynasty re-established there; indeed every individual of those who had lately come to power was so attentively employed in schemes of individual interest that they did not even dream of the danger that threatened them. The loyalty displayed by the inhabitants of Paris, of this and every other town of France; the voluntary enrolment and subscriptions of money to defend Louis 18th, persuaded me that he would not be driven from Paris without much bloodshed; but things have been so speedily decided that there was no time to organize resistance, & this town which was unanimous and enthusiastic for the King, has acknowledged Napoleon."

Extract of a Letter from an American gentleman now in Paris, dated March 22, 1815.

"Rest assured that Napoleon is fixed for life, if I may judge from the enthusiasm of the Parisians, particularly the military. He has dissolved the two houses composing the corps legislative. All the emigrants who have entered the army since April 1, 1814, have been ordered to quit the service, and the minister of war is forbidden to pay them any arrears which may be found due them on any pretext whatever. And all the Emigres who have not been particularly privileged by the Emperor, or by those serving under him, who have arrived in France since January 1, 1814, are ordered immediately to quit the Empire; and those found within it after 15 days, are to be arrested and tried, and their property sequestered. The American character is wonderfully respected here, particularly by the lower orders. The English are equally disliked; and yesterday I over heard several who said, that they could eat the heart of an Englishman. There are very few Englishmen in Paris, most of them having fled immediately on hearing of the escape of Napoleon from Elba. What an interesting, at the same time awful period to be in Paris. I yesterday had a view of this wonderful man, when he was reviewing about 15,000 of the troops of the line at the Place Carousel, opposite the Thuilleries. "Vive le Empereur," vociferated thousands of Frenchmen on first making his appearance. Three days since I saw them removing the N. from the different public buildings, and yesterday all the arms and insignia of the Bourbons were taken down."

NEW YORK, May 3.

VERY LATE AND IMPORTANT FROM ENGLAND.

The following letter from Boston, obligingly handed to us by a respectable House in this city, puts us in possession of London dates to the 30th March inclusive. In addition to the contents of this letter, we learn from others, that troops were hourly embarking in England for Belgium; and that a Dispatch Vessel, had already been sent out to Adm. COCHRANE, with instructions to take immediate possession of the French Islands in the West Indies.

The Papers from which our extracts are taken, were brought to Halifax by the sloop of war Perseus and a British packet, both in 25 days from Portsmouth, and from thence to Boston in the brig Legal Tender.

BOSTON, MAY 1

IMPORTANT NEWS.

Arrived this morning, the brig Legal Tender, Capt. SMITH, 3 days from Halifax, bringing London dates to the 30th March.

England and all the principal powers of Europe have united in DECLARING WAR AGAINST BONAPARTE, and were making every preparation for the prosecution of hostilities.

London, March 30.

We do not believe that LOUIS XVIII. has any intention of returning to England. His future movements will be guided by circumstances as they arise. He has arrived at Ostend.

We have received Paris papers of Saturday and Sunday. Bonaparte had not set off for Belgium, but his preparations for such a march and its object, are sufficiently indicated.

Last night Gen. HILL, set out for Belgium. He is the bearer of the commission to the Duke of WELLINGTON, appointing him Commander in Chief of His Majesty's Forces on the Continent of Europe.

Letters from Paris bring a report that the Toulon fleet has put to sea.

Letters from Weser state that 100,000 Prussian troops are proceeding from all parts of Prussia, by forced marches to the Rhine. The Elector of Hesse Cassel puts in motion 20,000 troops for the same destination.

London, March 29.

A Dutch mail arrived this morning, with papers to the 26th. They represent the united forces consisting of Prussians, Hanoverians, English and Dutch troops, as amounting to an army of one hundred and fifty thousand.

The force which Bonaparte has sent to await the attack of the Royalists, it is said actually amounts to 40,000.

NEW YORK, MAY 4.

LATEST FROM FRANCE.

The schr. Scourge, Capt. VOOSTER, arrived here last evening, in 29 days from L'Orient, (France.) Capt. W. has favored us with a manuscript, handed to him the day he sailed, by an intelligent French gentleman, as containing the principal news of importance then in circulation. We copy only the following extracts:

"Gens. BERTHIER, MARMONT, AUGEREAU and MACDONALD, have gone with the King and the Royal family.—Madam MOREAU and Madam TALLEYRAND, have gone to England.

"All the army have declared for Napoleon, and are unanimous for his cause. All the officers and soldiers on furlough are called into service.

"The Emperor has issued a decree abolishing the African slave trade. He appears to be much inclined for Peace with all nations, and says he has no desire to extend the bounderies of France. It is however, the general opinion that war with England will soon take place. England is fitting out all her men of war.

"In consequence of the hostile disposition of the citizens of Bordeaux, towards the Emperor, all communications are cut off from that place to Paris and elsewhere. Gen. CLAUZEL is marching to Bordeaux with an army of 25,000, and no doubt the inhabitants will soon submit.

"Accounts were received at L'Orient from Paris on the 2d April, stating that a general Embargo was to take place on all the shipping in the French ports."

FROM THE COMMERCIAL ADVERTISER.

CONGRESS OF VIENNA.

The following brief notice of Lord CASTLEREAGH's speech in the House of Commons, on the 24th of March throws new light upon the ultimate designs of the Congress of Vienna. Among other definitive arrangements we are pleased to find that Poland, instead of being annexed to the Russian Empire, is to be restored to the privileges of a distinct and independent government.

HOUSE OF COMMONS, MARCH 29, 1815.

Lord CASTLEREAGH this day developed the deliberations of the great Congress of Vienna, and gave a luminous view of the affairs of Europe. This speech was long and very able. He stated,

"That the Great Powers had pledged themselves to put an end to the slave trade; that France was to abolish it in 5, and Spain and Portugal in 8 years:

"That the Austrian dominion has been extended to the Po and Tessine on the side of Italy:

"That Genoa had been annexed to the King of Sardinia's dominions:

"That Prussia had received a part of Saxony:

"That Poland was to be erected into a separate kingdom, and to be governed as Poles:

"That the Netherlands were to be attached to Holland, and that the Spanish government wished to cherish a friendly connexion with G. Britain. On the subject of France, in her present situation, his Lordship said, he would give it as his opinion, that on the issue of the contest which now agitated her, depended the continuance of all the blessings to which this country could look forward; and that it never could be said, if Bonaparte were re-established in France, England could look forward to tranquility Were that man restored in France, he should be glad to know how the continent of Europe could avoid being again converted into so many armed nations, as the only security for their independence. He trusted that Providence would conduct this country and Europe through the remainder of its difficulties. A great deal had been done to promote the happiness of nations, and if Bonaparte was not suffered to intercept the prospects which were arising, never could Europe look forward to brighter days than those which it might now anticipate. The noble Lord sat down amidst loud and repeated cheers."

It will be recollected by our readers, that in BONAPARTE's proclamation published on his landing, and assigning his reasons for abandoning the Throne of France that he attributes his misfortunes to the treachery of Augereau, the duke of Castiglione, in delivering up Lyons, without any defence; and to that of Marmont, duke of Ragusa, in surrendering Paris. Marmont still adheres to the king, and the late English papers assert that Augereau does likewise; we however, find, in the Moniteur of the 27th March, the following proclamation of the latter; from which it appears that though he betrayed Lyons as asserted by Napoleon. he is now as glad to receive him back as he was to get rid of him before.

"SOLDIERS!!!

"You have heard it. The cry of your brethren in arms has reached even to you—it has made your hearts leap with joy. The Emperor is in his capital.

"This name, so long the pledge of victory, has sufficed to dissipate all enemies before him. For a moment fortune was unfaithful to him; seduced by the most noble illusion (the happiness of the country) he thought that he ought to make to France, the sacrifice of his glory and his crown.

"Led astray by such magnanimity, we then took an oath to defend other rights than his.

"His rights are imprescriptible. He reclaims them to day: never were they more sacred to us.

"SOLDIERS! during his long absence you look in vain upon your white flags, for any honourable recollections; cast your eyes upon the Emperour; on his side his immortal Eagles shine forth with new lustre.

"Let us rally under their wings Yes, they alone conduct to honor and victory. Let us hoist then the colors of the nation.

AUGEREAU,
Duke of Castiglione.

Extract of a Letter from an American gentleman, dated

"Buænes Ayres, Nov. 13.

"All the country of Chili is completely re-revolutionized; that is, the Chili revolutionists are defeated and taken prisoners by the Limanian European troops. A terrible convulsion took place here last night. A Gen. two Cols. and a Councellor of state were arrested in their bed, by order of government, put into a coach, guarded, and sent into the interior 500 leagues, for expressing a different opinion from the general in chief.

WASHINGTON CITY, MAY 6.

Despatches have been received at the Department of State, from our Minister in France, by Mr. Storrow, narrating the events which have recently taken place in France.

They do not, as we understand, nor could it be expected they should, contain any thing immediately important to the interests of the U. States.

Mr. Crawford was expected shortly to return to this country. Mr. Gallatin his successor, was in Paris; though he had not heard of, nor from what we hear, did he at all expect his appointment as minister to France.

LAKE ERIE OVERFLOWING.—From some unknown cause, the water in this Lake has been rising for about three years. During which time, it has risen nearly three feet; and according to its natural motion, will continue to rise during the summer. The Niagara river, rising in proportion to this increasing supply of water from the western world, by the rapidity of its current, is rendered more difficult to pass.—We have not heard the opinion of any gentleman of science on the subject, qualified to investigate the cause, or give any probable conjecture as to the source from whence it may spring. May it not arise from the improvement of the lands lying on the margin of Lake Erie, admitting a more free passage of the water in its tributary streams.

FROM THE GLEANER.

THE COGITATIONS OF UNCLE JOHN.

"RUINED, RUINED," cried my grandfather, as he raised his spectacles from his nose to his forehead, and dropped the True American upon his knees; "we are an undone people." "What in the world is the matter now, father?" asked my aunt Hannah, earnestly. "Matter!" cried the old gentleman—'matter enough! was there ever a nation going so fast to destruction? A Virginia nabob for President!—A most unnatural war!—Heaven knows it could never prosper!—Take Canada—take a fiddle-stick's end. And then our taxes are doubled—commerce all destroyed—religion and liberty kicked out of doors—and every good man turned out of office. I'll tell you, (exclaimed he vehemently) we are a ruined people. Democracy is the bane of freedom—I wouldn't trust a democrat with a field of mill-stones uncounted." "Poh, poh" said my aunt Hannah, "you are in a passion, father—if a democrat neighbor wanted any thing you would let him have it. "Have it," cried the old gentleman, "yes I'd let him have it, if it was a halter."

"Grandfather," said my brother Israel, coming in at that moment, "will you lend Mr. Willard your horse to go to mill?" "Why child," said my grandfather, softening his voice, "I was going to town—but he would not ask for him if he didn't want him; yes, he may take him." "I thought," said my aunt Hannah, "you wouldn't trust a democrat, and yet Mr. Willard is the hottest in the neighbourhood." "Well, well," said the old gentleman, "he's wrong in his politics—plaguy wrong; but he's a good neighbour, and I believe honest in his error; he's welcome to him."

I could not help smiling at my grandfather's political passion, contrasted with his social conduct to his opponents. I turned and went to the Post Office.

"Traitor's!—Tories!" cried a lean, dark complexioned man. "They may call themselves Federalists, but I say they are all a set of d——d Tories, & traitors to the country. Every man that don't support government is a traitor; the war must be supported; opposition must be put down; 'if fair words wont do, we must try what virtue there is in stones.' Binns here says the country is ruined by division; we must be united; he that isn't for us is against us; the election is coming on and we'll see who votes for tories and who votes for the country." "Stop, stop," said a little round faced man who stood near him, "you are in a passion; the Federalists are not tories; I know many of them who fought last war." "Zounds! sir," interrupted the lean man, "yes, they fought, but against us. Sir, they are a set of rascals, villains, cheats, liars; there isn't an honest man in the party—they're"——Here his breath failed him, and he fell down in a fit, produced by excess of passion. Medical aid was afforded, & with difficulty could he be brought to respire. "I MUST DIE," cried he as he opened his eyes: "I wish MR HEARTWELL would act as guardian to my little ones, and SETTLE MY ESTATE." "BUT," said the little round faced man, "HE'S A FEDERALIST."—"THAT'S THE VERY REASON THAT I CHOOSE HIM!" said the man who thought HE WAS BREATHING HIS LAST.

Many of the members we[illegible] collared, questioned what vote they i[illegible] tended to give, and insulted, as th[illegible] were proceeding to the House. M[illegible] Croker had his carriage door brok[illegible] open, was seized by the mob, and esc[illegible] ped only from their quarreling amo[illegible] themselves. Sir R. Thence they proceeded to t[illegible] houses of Lord Darnly in Berkley squa[illegible] of Mr. Yorke in Burton st. and the L[illegible] Chancellor in Bedford st. of which th[illegible] broke the windows, and demolished t[illegible] doors. They assaulted the house [illegible] Lord Ellenborough; but his Lordsh[illegible] presented himself at the door, address[illegible] them in a few words, when they cheer[illegible] him and went off. PROCLAMATION No. II.

TIBBETTE THE 1ST.

...rnamed the Great—King of the Poles—Prince ...f the Barbarian Powers—Protector of the ...Confederacy of Shavers—and Emperor of the West.

"The ridge and beards are Tibbettes wide domain, Left not a hair but by permission spreads."

THE genius of the Emperor has already pervaded every department of the empire; the ...ful influence of his presence, is already every ...where, even and felt. The Emperor views with ...satisfaction the fulfilment of his vast designs.—Wherever side, he turns his eye, he beholds ...unequivocal testimonial of the effects of sublime policy. Our faithful subjects, with glad hearts, have ...ed before our august self, tendering their ...with the most lively devotion: a few traitors ...unexcepted, who have fled our presence, ...ught a sudden refuge among the neighbouring barbarians, followed by our pity and not our indignation.

Although your Emperor, was at a distance from you, in a voluntary exile, he did not cease to watch over the destinies of this, his beloved ...ngdom; he often sighed for the hour which ...ould restore him to his people. Once more ...en he has wielded the Scissors of the Empire, ...the Razor of State has been honed, Imperial Powder and Washball, have been distributed, the ...ite coloured Flag, that emblem of purity, ...s taken place of the dark banner hung out to ...ourn you of our absence! The Royal Comb, ...ed in the essence of cinnamon and sweet ...ented myrrh, again adjusts in lovely confusion, ...ornamental locks of our faithful subjects, ...ile a thousand perennial graces, beneath ...our Emperor's influence, spring spontaneously ...ound. While the Emperor thus speaks of the ...od he has done, and still meditates for his ...ople, let him not ungratefully pass in silence, ...e proofs of love and affection which he has ...ily witnessed; still less forget, the pleasing ...itude, manifested by his people, and which ...s deeply impressed his august bosom, on a ...ain occasion, when our Royal Self, apparently ...ding to the Atlastian burthen of state affairs, ...assailed by Pandorean visitations, appeared ...ing beneath the mighty pressure—but we ...e only to rise again with "recuperative en...gy." For this, and for other causes of gene...solicitation, our Royal Self wills, that our ...ple shall participate in the halo of glory, ...ich encircles our Royal Wig; it is therefore ...solved that a day of rejoicing, of festivity and ...rth, be proclaimed, on which the overflowing ...arts of our beloved subjects, shall be poured ...th, for the auspicious return, and restoration, ...d preservation of our Royal Self, and for the ...mous felicity, which with Aurora Borealian ...ght illumines our Tonsorial horizon. On this ...casion, let there be mingled with the banquet ...e soul strains of soul subduing music and song: ...e following is recommended as an Anthem, ...posed by the best amongst our thousand bards—

Blest as th' immortal Gods is he
The man whose chin is shaved by thee,
Who sits and sees thee all the while,
Softly scrape and sweetly smile.

'Twas this that kept thy brush from rest,
While lather all my face possess'd,
Fain I gaz'd in transport tost
My nose was seiz'd, my voice was lost:

My visage glow'd, an eager flame
Rau quick through Tibbette's royal frame,
Rich o'er my phiz the blade was swung,
While on my breast the napkin hung.

My scrapes of magnum bonum thrill'd,
Throat was smooth'd—no blood was spill'd;
Adept'ur'd Lips now felt its play,
Painted, sunk, and died away.

The wondering universe, in a recent act of ...ful import, has beheld the more than mortal ...ergy of Tibbette. The Bourbons were restored to the Throne of France with a puff, and ...ve been again, as suddenly puffed away! The ...mperor beheld the feebleness of the degenerate ...e, and restored to the Throne of that vast ...mpire him, who to that eminence was "by merit raised." Napoleon, like ourself, has been restored to his people, having received from the ...eat instructor of men, the daughter of Jove, ...relentless adversity," the lessons of humility ...moderation—having learned, the instability ...mortality greatness, and the uncertainty of sub...nary visions. Marvellous will now be the ...ections of the two mightiest monarchs of ...e universe, thus suddenly restored to their ...ective Thrones!! Happy age, to be the wit...ess of these things! Such of you, beloved peo...e as shall survive the events of the present ...e, when your children and grand children ...l be gathered around you, and attention ...ll chain all who listen, you will say with ...ecstasy, "I was one of those whom ...Tibbette shaved—I witnessed his imperial skill, ...ajesty—these locks, now grey and negl...ted, were in a beatific hour, were combed by ...e imperial hand—bloomed with his royal pow...r and scented the gale with his odoriferous ...ours."

Soon at the Tonsorial Palace, 4th Hegira—Market Street, 3 doors below the Printing Office of the Pittsburgh Gazette, Sign of the Pole with Three Stripes.

Manhattan School,
FOR
YOUNG LADIES & GENTLEMEN

MR. LOOMIS, respectfully returns thanks to his patrons for their liberal patronage since the commencement of his School in this place, and informs them and the public that he continues to teach both sexes Reading, Penmanship analytically, English Grammar, English Composition, Geography, with the use of the Globes and Maps, Drawing of Maps, Bookkeeping, the Languages, &c.

The system of Education adopted in this School, will be that which is pursued in the celebrated Manhattan School, in the city of New-York, conducted by Mr. A. Picket, its successful founder; and which is acknowledged by men of the first literary reputation to be one of the best conducted Schools, in that city or in the United States. Here, about five hundred children of both sexes, comprising some of the best families in the city, constantly attend and are taught in such a manner as does the greatest honor to the teacher, and results in the happiest consequence to the pupils. It is of the utmost importance to teach children in such a manner that they will understand what they learn, and know how to apply it to the active pursuits of life. To give them words without accustoming them to attach some definite meaning to them, is, like blindfolding a man and commanding him to find a certain object; every effort leads him astray and renders him more uncertain of its attainment, so children if their minds are burdened with knowledge without understanding, find themselves uninterested in the pursuits, of course their progress in acquiring it will be but small: they must be brought to love learning if we would expect ever to teach them to good purpose, for the mind always eagerly embraces that which it previously loves.

In this School every requisite attention will be paid to the learning and amiable deportment of the pupils, and no labour will be thought too arduous to form the young mind for future usefulness and respectability in society. The education of youth is difficult and requires unwearied attention and experience, for no man is born a teacher, it is an occupation which requires many years practice to become a proficient in the business. To his many years experience in teaching an extensive School and unwearied diligence, the subscriber looks for public patronage, pledging himself to a conscientious discharge of the duties incumbent on a teacher, he with confidence solicits the patronage of the public.

For terms of Tuition, references, &c. please to apply at the School Room, over Mr THOMAS ARGEO'S Store, Market Street

N. B. Young Ladies will be taught plain and ornamental Needle Work, in a separate apartment, by Mrs. Loomis.

Morning Tuition will commence on the 1st of May, for Penmanship, from 6 to 8 o'clock, at Six Dollars a quarter, payable in advance

P. S. On hand and constantly for Sale, ENGLISH QUILLS of the best quality, wholesale and retail.

Doctor CHISHOLMS,

Anti-Bilious Pills,

OF A QUALITY

Superior to any thing of the kind ever offered as a

GENERAL MEDICINE,

IN THIS COUNTRY,

Now prepared from a recipe of the celebrated Dr. Chisholm, who, from a long residence in the West-India islands, has been enabled to favor the world with the most complete history, and most approved methods of curing all the BILIOUS DISEASES of those warm climates

This extraordinary medicine, which now for the first time is finding its way into general practice, has properties in the highest degree superior to the mercurial nostrums so frequently recommended by the name of Anti-Bilious Pills. The extraordinary powers of this medicine as a solvent and evacuant of bile, is without example; never producing debility, or injuring the health, in the smallest degree, of the most delicate child, or weakly female.

The BILIOUS HEAD-ACHE, so much complained of in this country, and in the neighbourhood of rivers, is often removed by a single dose, which, to a strong man, is only five pills, and to a weakly woman, three. The same dose will generally remove the most excrutiating pains of the cholic, like a charm, by abusing the bile to pass downwards in the course of an hour or two.

Two or three Pills taken an hour before dinner, and repeated every third day, will effectually remove those diseases arising from flatulency and indigestion, and by persevering in the use of them for a considerable time, the appetite will be improved, and strength and vigor will return.

Two Pills taken at bed time, with a cup of penny-royal tea, and repeated every second night, will effectually remove Rheumatic pains, wherever seated.

A single Pill, taken every fourth hour with a cup of flax-seed tea, will cure Pleurisy, promote expectoration, and relieve coughs and colds.

In CONSUMPTIVE CASES and diseases of the liver, no medicine ever yet discovered, has been known to perform such cures. Two Pills, taken every third morning, will be found sufficient, unless costiveness prevails; in which case, the dose may be increased according to the strength or constitution.

The Dysentery, Croup, and Summer Complaint on children, are soon relieved by a few doses. A single Pill to a child of 6 years old, and the dose increased according to their strength and age.

In Asthmatic or Phthisical cases, where the laborious breathing and great oppression with faintings, are fast sinking the patient to the brink of the grave, a few Pills, taking one every hour, with fennel or pepper-mint tea, will often enable the patient to walk about in a few hours.

The above valuable Medicine is Sold ONLY in Pittsburgh, by

Doctor Handy's,

WORM DESTROYING

LOZENGES,

A safe and efficacious Medicine for destroying and bringing away

WORMS.

MAY be used with safety by children of any age, or as common physic by the most delicate constitution, in any climate, without restraint of diet, or the smallest danger from cold. It may be given with advantage after the small-pox or measles; or as a family medicine, in any case where physic is necessary. The most frequent seat of worms in the human body, is the intestinal tube; but occasionally they have been found in almost every other part of the body.

Some very extraordinary cases of Worms, of an unusual form and appearance, being brought away by these Lozenges, have been made public in England, where the rapid sale of the medicine has exceeded any thing of the kind ever known before; and has also proved, to a demonstration, its approved superiority, as an athelminthick, to the numerous puffed-up, useless nostrums, which are daily advertised in the newspapers.

A single dose of this valuable Medicine has often been known to remove half a pot-full of the Teres or Round Worms.

A few doses are generally sufficient to remove the Ascarides, a small white worm, the seat of which is either the stomach or rectum.

Even the Tape Worm, at all times the most difficult to destroy, may, by persevering in the frequent use of this medicine, be totally removed in the course of a few weeks.

To select cases, with the names of people who are not known here, and living at a great distance, would be useless, and take up too much of the reader's time We shall therefore only observe, for the benefit of those who are unacquainted with the symptoms of worms, that they are known or suspected to exist by a pain in the stomach, attended with a sudden depression of spirits before eating; at other times, the belly is hard, painful and distended with wind—costiveness, head-ache, and trembling of the limbs, with a sense of something rising in the throat—pale complexion and emaciated body, with weakness and irregular appetite—convulsive, epileptic, or falling fits—pains in the back and side, and frequent itching of the nose, and sometimes of the anus. The above, and a long train of afflicting diseases may all be occasioned by worms, which are much oftener the cause of death than is commonly believed.

The above valuable Medicine is sold only by

J. P. & J. W. SKELTON,

Mineral Waters.

THE subscribers respectfully inform the public, that they have commenced making SODA and SELTZER WATERS, for the season, and having been at considerable expence in procuring ice, they flatter themselves they will meet with that encouragement due to the establishment. The qualities of these waters are so well known that it is scarcely necessary to enumerate them. It must be observed, however, that they are recommended by the most eminent physicians in this country, in all cases of debility: they particularly tend to strengthen the stomach, promote appetite and digestion; as an agreeable and pleasant drink they are unequalled; their exhilirating qualities being such as to supercede the necessity of spiritous liquors; they are therefore particularly suited to females whose delicate constitutions require a moderate stimulous without impairing health. The Soda Water operates as a mild cathartic, and is peculiarly suited to persons of costive habits. The price of tickets is 50 cents per dozen being the same as in Philadelphia and New York; each ticket entitles the bearer to a half pint tumbler of water. Persons residing at a distance can have it put up in bottles.
